HONGKONG, TUESDAY, SEPT. 15, 1868.

CONSULS AND COOLIES. WE have already inserted a letter which was addressed to our contemporary by "Remedios & Co." accompanied by some remarks which might have implied a lingering doubt as to the bona fides of the contradiction therein given to the statement that they were agents of coolis ships, Strict enquiry has, however, convinced us that though "Remedies & Co." have applied to printers in Hongkong to print coolie contracts nominally in their own behalf, and that although the representative of that tf. firm is son of a well known coolie dealer at Macao, and nephew of the head of the firm yet to be described, they have never shipped a cargo of coolies. We therefore transfer any reflection which might have seemed to rest on them to the proper shoulders : those of the firm of which the Portuguese Consul is the head-

Messrs. J. J. dos Remedios & Co.

We have already expressed the pleasure which it gave us to learn that the gentleman who represents to the Hongkong Government the dignity of Portugal was interested in coolie matters, secure as we were that the high reputation ha enjoys would obtain for the Chinese native a complete immunity from all those evils which attend the traffic as conwe had no idea of the absolute mine of knowledge which was covered by the signature of "J. J. dos R." Considering that the venerable and respectable head that firm first set in motion the law against this journal, the public will easily pardon the overwhelming interest which we evince in "J. J. dos R.'s" coolie proceedings. In the present article we do not in any way impugn their entire legality, their humanity, or even their sentimental respectability. As a mere matter of taste we might differ from the estimate formed in the "Dos" mind of coolie trading in general. It is merely in an official sense, a public sense, -in that sense in which the proceedings of public men are open to comment—that we tread on this tender ground, and it is because, not " that wir Statements are freely made on all sides that the venerable "J. J. dos R." is something more than the mere agent of a coolie-trading firm on the Pacific coast. It is said, and the assertion is not, so far as we are aware, injurious to any ordinary mercantile firm, that vessels loaded with guano are frequently sent over here from Peru, consigned to the firm of "J. J. dos R." with instructions to send the ships when unladen over to Macao, there to fill up with coolie cargoes ; that Messes J. J. dos R. engage the coolie contractors; and that the venerable head of the firm, the estimable and honored Consul of Portugal at Hongkong, gels fire dollars per vestels. Rumour, which in this case seems to be very reliable, further states that the honored Portuguese representative got so many dollars a head for each coolie shipped on board the Providenza. Now, there can be no objection to any

Allow me, in support of this view, to give you the definition of a "Bill of Exhange" as laid down by Mr Justice Byles and Mr Chitty in their respective Treatises on Bills of Exchange.

The former says :- " A Bill of Exchange a an unconditional written order from A B directing B to pay Ca sum of money Mr Chitty says :- "A Bill of Exchange is defined to be an open letter of request from, and order by one person on another, to pay to a third, a sum of money certain mentioned in the instrument." The words " Order for the Payment

Money" in the exception under the heading "Bills of Exchange, &c." in the Schefule to the Stamp Ordinance has no legal lefinition, but was, I fancy, inserted by the Legislature to meet local usages, by exempting Comprador's orders and those orders for the payment of passage money drawn on "self" or "Comprador! much used on the River Steamers, which documents, but for the exception the Schedule would, I think, require a stamp under the term "obligations for the payment of money."

THE VOLUNTEER CRISIS It is useless to attempt to disguise fact that there is discoutent of a serious kind in the volunteer world just now; discontent which has been gathering since last autumn, but the strength of which we have had no means of gauging until las week. It is true that the Wimbledon review has never been a popular field-day with the force, for many reasons which would be beside our present purpose to dwell on. It is also true that the Sout Western Railway Company quite outdid all its former blundering, and very nearly succeeded in stopping the review altogether by a sudden and peremptory change of all he arrangements, in the teeth of the nu lished orders of the Inspector-General, and at a time when it was too late for commandng officers to communicate with their men in the usual way. We may make large alowance for the weather, and the effect which the sensational rumours of sunstos and diarrhosa in the camp may have had in thinning the ranks. But after making all due allowances we shall still find the muster many thousands below the mark. and shall have to look a good deal deeper if we want to satisfy ourselves why scarcely more than 4,000 volunteers could be got under arms on Saturday last. Lord Napier's name alone would have brought together three times this number in any former year, and on Saturday two Royal princes were in the field as well as the conqueror of Theodore. And yet, in spite of all attractions, there was a muster such as we have never seen before; even in the first year of the movement. It was not that there were many metropolitan corps altogetlier absent, but they came on the groun mere skeletons, so that two or three had to be thrown together to form a respectable battalion; and when formed, with a few exceptions, went through the movements in a listless, heartless manner, as if the feeling of emulation which has hitherto been so strong had died out, and the rank and

THE NEW CHINESE PREATY

(New York Tribune, July 16.) .. The new treaty just signed between the United States and China, though it contains no single stapulation of very great magnitude, is a remarkable evidence of the change in Chinese policy of which Mr. Burlingame is the herald. It recognises in the fullest man er that China is a member of the family of nations, and entitled as such to all the respect and immunities in its dealings with the rest of the world which are accorded by the different Powers of Christendom towards each other. It provides for the anpointment of Uniness Consuls at foreign ports, and the admission of Chinese pupils to American schools and colleges, without religious or political tests. Whenever the Em. eror may see fit to commence the construction of railroads, telegraphs, or other internal improvements, the United States will designate engineers, but our Government disclaims the right to interfere with the domestic administration of China in any way. American citizens in China shall enjoy freedom of religious worship, and shall have the privilege of maintaining schools in those cities of the empire where they may reside. The right of voluntary emigration is explicitly declared, the Coolie trade is denounced, and there is an article recognising the importance of a uniform standard of weights, measures, and coins. From this synopsis it will appear that the treaty is more important for what it indicates than for what it actually establishes. All the points embraced in it have been covered by suparate treaties with different Powers, and no privileges are accorded to the United States which have not already been granted to others. Commercial and special conventions will doubtless be made hereafter; the present instrument seems designed mainly to establish the place of China in the international confederation, and to ratify the arious agreements which she has made with our representatives at one time or another.

One of the greatest difficulties in the way of satisfactory intercourse between China and the Western world has been the diffioulty of determining just how China was to stand in relation to the Outside Barparians. But this treaty removes the batacle entirely. It recognises the equality and brothe Lood of nations, and expresses the desire of China to onter into close commercial and diplomatic intercourse with the rest of the world. What results must follow from this wonderful revolution we need not stop to guess, but they can hardly fail to be mangificent. It is gratifying to reflect that American common sense and fair dealing (?) have brought about a change in the policy of the venerable empire of the East, which Great Britain and the other Eur pean Powers failed to enforce by repeated wars. The treaty Powers extorted from China the privilege of trading at certain ports, of travelling through the interior, of sending embassies to Pekin; but the Saturday Review, in a waspish article on Mr Burlingame's mission complains that the favours they secured with so much pains are gradually slipping through their fingers, and dreads that they may not be recovered without another war. The experience of the last few years, we should think, ought to have convinced even the Saturday Review that the boinbshell policy is a bad one, and that if England wishes to emulate our success she aust deal as honestly as we do (?) English statesmen, at any rate, see this, and will welcome the embassy as heartily and .cooperate with it as truly as our own Government is doing. The old-fashioned British way of entering a foreign kingdom, by cracking the skull of anybody who tried to bar the door, we trust has been finally favours which will not slip through their fingers, they must get them in the Ameri-

5 -- Applicants for Money Orders mus furnish, in full, the surname, and, at least the initial of one Christian name, both the Remitter and the Payee; if the Romit ter or Payee be a Peer or a Bishop, his ordinary title will be sufficient, if a firm, the usual designation of such firm, such as Baring Brothers" will suffice ; but the mere term Messrs., such as " Messrs. Ri vington," or the name of a Company trading under a title which does not consist of the names of the persons composing it, such as "Carron Co." is inadmissible. 6. The Remitter on stating that the Order is to be paid only through a Bank, have the option of giving or withdrawing the name of the Payee; in such case, the Order will be crossed in the same way that Cheques are commonly crossed when they are intended to be paid through a Bank. 7. - When an Order is presented through a Bank, a receipt by any person will be suf-ficient, provided the Order be crossed with the name of the receiving Bank, and be presented by some Person known to be the employ of such Bank.

8. The signature of the Payce of a Money Order to be affixed to the Order in the place provided for the purpose. If the Payee be unable to write he must sign the receipt by making his mark in the presence of a Witness, who must sign his name, with his address in the presence of the Officer who pays the Order.

9, -Should the Payee of a Money Order desire to receive payment in the Country in which the Order was issued, at some other Office than that in which the Order was originally drawn, the transfer will be granted provided the Order be, inclosed to the Postmaster of the Office in which it was drawn. In such case a new Order will issued, the Commission chargeable upon which will be deducted from the amount of the new Order.

10 -In the event of a Money Order miscarrying or being lost, a duplicate will be granted on a written application from the Payee, (containing the necessary particulars, and accompanied by an addi-tional Commission) to the Office where the Original Order was payable.
11.—On the receipt of a similar application, orders will be given to stop payment of a Money Order, or to renew a lapsed Order. The additional Commission in the last case will be deducted from the amount of the new Order. Lapsed Orders must be presented with the application for a new

HIS Medicine is universally admitted to be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. I is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females, while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT! The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Cintment, as it cares after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases poculiar to the climates of India and China, It is the true friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treat-
